When you employ me as a mediator I bring a wealth of experience and key strengths in:

- understanding
- attention to detail
- patience
- tenacity
- value for money

My background knowledge and experience

I have worked as a commercial litigator for over 20 years. I was a solicitor for 10 years, and was partner in a law firm for three years of those years. I became a barrister at the Victorian Bar in 2002.

For over 20 years I have been assisting businesses and individuals to resolve their commercial disputes. I understand the importance of personal relationships and of open and effective communication in business. I have been involved extensively in the franchise sector and have a deep understanding of the legal issues and the approach that Courts will take if a dispute is unable to be resolved.

I have been an Australian National Mediation Accreditation System accredited mediator since 2011. I have also represented many different individuals and businesses, large and small, at mediations throughout my legal career and appreciate the commercial realities and clients' needs.
